To attain a competitive edge in today's marketplace, senior living communities must make a priority of raising service standards. What are residents, staff and guests saying about dining service at your community? Because what they say makes a significant difference to people considering moving in. The truth is, all too often residents' expectations are not being met, staff turnover is high so service continuity suffers, and mealtimes become lost opportunities in two ways: 1) They fall short of meeting health and quality-of-life goals communities hold dear for residents; and 2) They fail to turn your servers into your best company assets. What would happen community-wide if you could satisfy your residents in such a way that they'll recommend their friends move in? Retain staff as your community becomes a better place to work? Boost customer satisfaction, resident rapport, and employee morale, all while improving your competitive edge? Start improving your community reputation, marketability, and profitability today with Hospitality for Boomers: How to attract residents, retain staff, and maximize profitability. Written by former restaurateur, health-care food service director, and national Kind Dining service trainer, Cindy Heilman, this quick read shares a unique service perspective and is full of hospitality tips. Learn how to respect your diner's experience, train your staff to excel, apply empathy daily, exceed your residents' expectations, build your hospitality team, grow your employees personally and professionally, maximize your profitability, focus your leadership team, expedite your next steps, and more. The service principles in

*Hospitality for Boomers apply to all types of senior housing communities: nursing homes (NH), assisted living (AL), residential care (RC), continuing care residential communities (CCRC), independent living communities (IL), and adult foster homes (AFH). These affirmations are written to strengthen your daily walk and supercharge your belief. God has bestowed so much power in our lives, we just have to walk in faith to unlock that power. This work will reinforces your faith to be the strong Christian warrior and live the abundant life God designed for you. Asset Protection in Florida covers all facets of asset preservation for Florida residents. The Fourth Edition manual provides comprehensive analysis of the many steps available to protect assets from creditors' claims, both during your lifetime and at death. Among the many topics covered are homestead, trusts (both domestic and offshore), business planning, planning for dissolution of marriage, protection of retirement and education accounts, and the ethical aspects of advising clients on asset protection issues. Bankruptcy issues and tax planning are prominently featured throughout the text. The eBook versions of this title feature links to Lexis Advance for further legal research options. Are you tired of people telling you what you can and can't do, and want more freedom in your life? Do you feel like you were made for so much more, want to change but don't know where to begin? Approaching 50 Amy had these exact thoughts, and after 30 years of teaching she stepped away to become a certified Health and Life coach and start her own business. In Reframe Your Life: Amy shares her story from teacher to coach and the lessons learned along the way as she discovered her beliefs had been ruling her life. She will inspire you to create a vision for your new life, and empower you to ask for what you want. Through real client stories and her own struggles Amy shares how she was able to let go of old beliefs that were holding her back, and coached others to overcome their limiting beliefs motivating you to transform your life too. Amy's journey led her to face her fears head on, and enabled her to help her clients reclaim their lives. Through Amy's coaching you will believe everything is possible, and begin to learn how to reframe your life. Amy Rybicki is a Health and Life Coach, and the owner of Simply Natural Coaching LLC and the co-owner of Reclaim Your Life Coaching LLC. She lives on a 5-acre farm named Simply Natural Farm in North Fort Myers, Florida with her husband and all her animals. Here is where she meets with private clients, hosts retreat and farm experiences and manages her Airbnb. She thrives on helping people and plants grow, and when she's not coaching she enjoys hanging out with her animals and spending time in her gardens tending to her many plants and trees. As you read and EVOLVE, I encourage you to think about the message, ponder my questions... and most importantly... live your answers! Co-published with ACUHO-I  In 2007, the American Association of Colleges and Universities named learning communities a high-impact practice because of the potential of these communities to provide coherence to and ultimately improve undergraduate education. Institutional leaders have demonstrated a commitment to providing LLCs, but they currently do so primarily with anecdotal information to guide their work. As a result, there is substantial variation in organizational structure, collaboration, academic and social environments, programmatic integration, student outcomes, and overall quality related to LLC participation. To establish a stronger, more unified basis for designing and delivering effective LLCs, the authors of Living-Learning Communities that Work collaborated on the development of a comprehensive empirical framework for achieving the integrating potential of LLCs. This framework is designed to help practitioners guide the design, delivery, and assessment of LLCs. This book thoughtfully combines research and field-tested practice to document the essential components for best practices in living learning communities and presents them as a clear blueprint -the LLC best practices model - for LLC design. Practitioners, researchers, and institutional leaders can use the book as a guide to more effectively allocate resources to create and sustain LLCs and to realize the potential of these communities to improve undergraduate education. This revised fourth edition from estate-planning expert Harvey J. Platt details the most up-to-date strategies for using a living trust to create a flexible estate plan. With explanations of the latest tax laws, including the new Tax Relief Act, changes to the gift and generation skipping tax laws, and the new unified tax schedule rate. This book maps out *the most effective techniques for saving money and property and provides the essential details of successful estate planning. <http://www.brotmanfinancial.com/Home.aspx> A Living Trust can do so much more than a will to ensure that money is not lost or wasted, to keep your family out of court and to keep creditors away. Let The Living Trust Kit teach you all the advantages a Living Trust offers. The ultimate aim of this book is to educate individuals, business owners and corporate employees on how to incorporate healthier living into their daily lives so that they begin to live consciously. Helping others to identify their risk factors and educating them on how they can change simple things every day so they, too, can become healthier and happier. This book discusses health and wellness in explicit detail. It will also show you that you need to open your mind and heart to the possibility that you can take control of the direction your health is headed. In other words, you will discover from this book that a more fulfilling life is possible only through your own will and determination - indeed through behavioral change! Consequently, this book will help you to define what you need to do to achieve your personal and/or professional goals. You can grow a business AND nurture meaningful relationships. Balance is not the path to get there. Integration is. First-generation entrepreneurs are pulled in a million different directions. Growing a business is all consuming and leaves little time, energy and bandwidth for the people who are most important in your life. Trying to split your time between these worlds only causes stress, resentment and poor business performance. Fortunately, you don't have to choose between them. Randy Gerber is a first-generation entrepreneur who understands the challenges you face every day. He developed and has successfully implemented a strategy for achieving happiness in all aspects of his life, and wrote The Integrated Entrepreneur to help you do the same. Discover how to: - Survive and thrive through the five unique stages of business success - Avoid the two major types of failures - Use integration and planned experience sharing to bridge your time between work and family - Keep your sanity, lower your stress, and have more fun Stop trying to balance your business and your relationships. Start integrating your way to happiness today! You'll read stories about other caregivers who face the same struggles. This book may just save your marriage! Like most moms, Stephanie Sikora felt like she was always just trying to keep up with the chaos of her home and life. Over time, the never-ending running in circles to manage the piles of kids' shoes, toys, and clothes got to her—and her family. When her daughter said, "Mommy, you never sit and play with me," a light bulb came on. Stephanie was always so preoccupied picking up and doing what needed to be done each day, she never got around to living being present for the moments that mattered the most. Motivated by her toddler's honesty, she immersed herself in creating a life that was simpler and didn't leave her exhausted at the end of each day. Owner of Life Made Simple LLC, Stephanie turn chaos into calm by offering compassionate organizing solutions and systems for clients' homes, businesses, and lives. In simplified. A Real-Life Guide to Organizing Your Space and Saving Your Sanity, Stephanie shares her fifteen years of experience and company's trade secrets for the very first time, such as: How to decide what to keep, what to donate, and what to throw away (without crying into a bottle of wine) How to simplify routines in your home and life, from getting everyone out the door to getting a decent meal on the table and everything in between (even if you claim to be the least organized person around) How to create super-simple systems to keep your home and life running smoothly (that even your spouse and kids can follow) More than just tips on downsizing, simplified. presents a proven system to clear your space, clear your head, and reclaim a life you actually live. Brings you eight inspiring and thought-provoking stories of Christian business owners from six continents living out the purpose for which God created them in their unique business settings. The number of unmarried adult women actually outnumbers the number of married women for the first time in US history, according to the Population Reference Bureau, in October, 2010. Women are now earning more, going to college and graduate schools more, and finding ways to become more independent. Also, according to the Kauffman Foundation, single, divorced and widowed women start more businesses as entrepreneurs than men in their respective categories. This book interviews over 30 single women entrepreneurs throughout the US to discern why they started their original businesses, what the perceived advantages and disadvantages are for the single woman entrepreneur, what they each learned from the experience, and what advice they have for the next generation of women solopreneurs. The first edition of this book has been reviewed in The New York Times, Entrepreneur and author Dan Pink's blog. A smarter, more satisfying way to manage your time and money—to achieve the goals that are important to you. Forget the old work ethic of putting in 60–80 hour weeks and not having a life outside your office. Stop being a victim of email, cell phone, and information overload.
