Do you find yourself struggling to walk in the spirit? Well, it s time to put an end to the struggling!The inner conflict between the Spirit and the flesh is extremely real. The only consistent way to overcome the sinful desires is to live moment by moment in the power of the Holy Spirit and by faith in God s Word to assure ultimate victory.Galatians 5:16 declares, walk in the Spirit, and you shall not fulfill the lust of the flesh. This book holds a collection of personal love letters written from the perspective of the Father (ABBA) conversing with His child. The letters are designed to inspire the reader to possess and manifest the Fruit of the Spirit love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness and self control (Galatians 5:22).Alisa Miller Johnson has held various administrative positions in the public and private sector. She is the president and founder of Inscriptions Ink, a personal expression business dedicated to inscribing His love onto the pages of devotional books. The company s mission is to refresh, restore and renew the Creator s most treasured creation mankind through words of encouragement. She also diligently serves as a teacher and counselor in Christian ministry. In addition to her church and work responsibilities she enjoys tennis, swimming, reading and spending quality time with her husband, four sons and grandchildren. A practical book to help parents communicate with their children and show how much they care through notes and letters. The book includes the authors' experiences, encouragement to parents to start, sample letters, and 75 colorful tear out sheets. If God were to write you a letter, in 200 words or less, what might it say? Would it be full of harshness, pointing out all your faults and wrong-doings? Would it be a laundry list of things you should have done, or should be doing, places to go, or people to see? In The Letters, my hope is that you will see the God of hope, grace and encouragement. He is not the ogre that we are sometimes led to believe he is.As you read these letters, you will discover a God who knows your name, He knows what you like (pecan pie), what you are good at (drums and ping-pong), what you dislike (broccoli) and what makes you happy (seeing your loved one at the end of your day). And most of all, you will discover a God who not only loves you, but is very, very fond of you. Some will use this book as a nightly read. Some might find it to be a valuable group-study book. Others will dip into it from time to time when dealing with issues. Some in lands outside the borders of America will read this and perhaps wonder at the images of God presented here. For all of you, you were kept in mind whether you were born in Africa, America, Russia, Dubai, or Des Moines. May you delight in discovering a God of great grace and mercy who always has you in his sights. Dear Caregiver is a beautifully illustrated gift book for parents and caregivers of special needs individuals. The letters of encouragement and uplifting pictures will inspire all caregivers in their difficult positions to which they have been called or chosen.The scriptures cited in Dear Caregiver offer hope and assurance that God is with them through all of their labors and trials. Caregivers are challenged and assured to trust the Sovereign Lord. He is the One who has chosen a life for them that is more blessed and meaningful than their life would have been without the daily sacrifice of loving and caring for their special needs person. If you are a caregiver or know a caregiver who is struggling with the burdens and responsibilities of their situation, this book will be most helpful (or "essential") in the caregiving journey. Letters of Encouragement are a group of articles written to inspire you to be a better you. It is designed to Letters are personal, in an impersonal world today. Imagine yourself alone or housebound because of aging, health issues, or lack of support. This is the new reality for many people now, which prompted me to put this book together. This special collection of Letters of Encouragement originated from a letter ministry I began many years ago, and, I believe, is even more relevant today in the turbulent times we live in. There will always be a need to encourage people, and because of the variety of content in this book, I pray it will comfort your heart, make you smile, and inspire your faith. This is a unique book you'll cherish, but want to share with others too. Part I is an assortment of inspirational stories, poems, and devotional messages filled with humor, hope, and pearls of wisdom. Part II will capture the heart of every animal lover with personal stories about some of our beloved pets and other tales you'll never forget. Part III is about special people and personal family stories that will touch your heart and strengthen your faith. May God bless you with His peace, knowing that He is not only desirable but reliable, and He wants to encourage your heart during these difficult days. So be blessed, relax, and rest in His sufficiency...and remember you're not alone! Letters of Encouragement from a Mother to Her Son is pretty much made up of nine letters that were written by a mother to her only child, her son who has to spend time locked away from family. After each letter, there are scriptures and teaching that one could ponder on and apply to their life. Letters To Our Brothers is a collection of letters, prose, and quotes written by Black Men to encourage, motivate, challenge and support other Black Men. Meet 44 authentic Black Men who have shared words of perseverance, wisdom, hope and achievement. The writings will cultivate a deeper sense of self-worth and build character. An agricultural revolution is sweeping the land. Appreciation for high-quality food, often locally grown, an awareness of the fragility of our farmlands, and a new generation of young people interested in farming, animals, and respect for the earth have come together to create a new agrarian community. To this group of farmers, chefs, activists, and visionaries, Letters to a Young Farmer is addressed. Three dozen esteemed leaders of the changes that made this revolution possible speak to the highs and lows of farming life in vivid and personal letters specially written for this collaboration. Barbara Kingsolver speaks to the tribe of farmers—some born to it, many self-selected—with love, admiration, and regret. Dan Barber traces the rediscovery of lost grains and foodways. Michael Pollan bridges the chasm between agriculture and nature. Bill McKibben connects the early human quest for beer to the modern challenge of farming in a rapidly changing climate. Letters to a Young Farmer is a vital road map of how we eat and farm, and why now, more than ever before, we need farmers. You've calmed babies' cries and cared for ailing relatives' needs. You've pinched pennies and shopped the clearance racks. Perhaps you've been infatuated with a demanding career or you've struggled with other excesses like pride. You're not alone. Inside, you'll find fifty-two encouraging letters from caregivers, the financially challenged, and even addicts (everyday folks who've experienced the highs and lows of overindulgence). Their homespun messages offer encouragement, inspiration, and glimpses of victory. Twenty well-known Christian men pass along some of life's more important lessons to the next generation through loving letters written straight from the heart. Full color. Letters of encouragement is letters from The New Testament in the King James Verion. It is used by permission from Thomas Nelson Publishing Company. This is a collection of letters of encouragement written to friends and strangers. All are inspired by the Holy Spirit. These letters try to see the light that can be elusive in people's lives. They were written to remind people of who they are or to help them through a difficult time. They span the emotions of love, hope, compassion, joy, gratitude, faith, and peace. They always speak to the recipient's hearts. There are life's moments that need to be acknowledged or validated, and these letters respond to those moments. Jesus said, "Let there be light," and this book describes how to find it in a very ordinary way. The letters are always optimistic. It is so important to see the light in the darkness. It is important to look around and see the goodness in others and, most importantly, in ourselves. Life is worth living and living to the fullest. The responses from the recipients of the letters are so often "These are the exact words that I needed to hear." A beautiful collection of handwritten letters that offer strength and comfort to women living with breast cancer. Written by compassionate strangers—many of whom have gone through their own health battles—these heartfelt letters contain empathy, inspiration, and humor to help you overcome difficult moments. They were gathered by Girls Love Mail, an organization that provides support to people diagnosed with breast cancer. Also including beautiful illustrations, this is a book that can bring light to dark moments and make readers feel less alone during stressful and hard times. Letters of Encouragement from a Mother to Her Son is pretty much made up of nine letters that were written by a mother to her only child, her son who has to spend time locked away from family. Out of the nine letters, the last one has not yet been read by my son. By this time, if you are reading this, my son has also. After each letter, there are scriptures and teaching that one could ponder on and apply to their life so that they may be encouraged and lifted up and know that they are not alone. Most of us young and old never pick up a Bible, so God has appointed those that are led by the Holy Spirit to be a light to the world. I pray that this book will reach and bless many who read it, and I pray that those who apply the Word of Jesus to their life will be encouraged and changed in a way that draws them closer to Jesus Christ. Maybe they would even give their life to Jesus, if they haven't already, then assemble themselves around those who love the Lord so that they may continue to grow in the Lord our God and pass it on to the next, spreading the love of God. Amen! Be encouraged. What is the Bible? What are the Scriptures? Is the message of God's word to mankind simply ancient history recorded in a book to be left on a shelf? Or is God's word alive today? Is He talking to you? Lillie has been hearing God's word throughout her life, although there were times when she tried to turn away from His message, risking her salvation. When she returned to God, He gave her a gift, the ministry of epistle writing, which took the form of letters written to friends searching for solace, answers and inspiration. Now Lillie is offering you letters of encouragement, beautifully highlighted with direct Scripture quotations intertwining the word of God with lessons of life, love and choices. May you be blessed with a better understanding of God's word and a deeper appreciation for His very personal love for you. Lillie Mae Jenkins is an ordained evangelist. She is a member of Evening of Prayer Church of God in Christ, where she serves under the esteemed leadership of Pastor William A. and Evangelist Ena M. Prioleau as Sunday School Teacher, Usher, President and Trainer of both Senior and Junior Usher Boards. After surrendering her life to Christ, it was then that God anointed Evangelist Jenkins with a writing epistle ministry. Lillie Mae is known in both New York and South Carolina for the truly inspirational letters she has written to those seeking guidance and encouragement. "As a black mother raising black children it is important to my husband and me to be the first and loudest voices of affirmation for our children! Do you have some things that you want to say to a young person in your life but want to find a way to say and savor the sentiment? Do you absolutely adore your children but have trouble communicating that to them? Are you comfortable with communicating but wish to encapsulate your wisdom, desires, or emotion of that moment for your child's future reference? Whether prompted by their 1st, 13th, or 18th birthday; graduation, tragedy, current or other important event in their life (OR frankly yours) let me help you capture your precious thoughts, words of wisdom, and wants in writing for your loved ones."-- A collection of encouraging, informative letters to read when facing the challenges of military life. "... feels like a tight hug from a friend who gets it ..."—Becky Hoy, founder of Brave Crate, cofounder of PILLAR "... if you are a brand new military spouse ... or a seasoned military spouse, there is a letter in this book for you ..."—Brittany Boccher, 2017 AFI Military Spouse of the Year and founder of Discover Your Spark Dear Military Spouse, I wrote these letters to encourage you throughout your military life journey. Whether you are celebrating a milestone, surviving an unfamiliar challenge, or feeling unheard, you are not alone. I am here with you, from the first moments of falling in love with your service member, to attending your first military ball, giving birth while your spouse is deployed, and moving across country (or an ocean) on short notice. I know what it's like to be making new friends—again and again, finding strength to support other spouses in the community, preparing to leave active duty, and many other military life moments in between. This collection of Open When letters is meant to deliver that special message from a friend who understands, whenever you need reassurance, helpful ideas, or a simple reminder of your own strength. We've got this! With love from a fellow military spouse, Lizann Lightfoot The Seasoned Spouse "... Every letter in this book is unbelievably relatable to every chapter in my life as a military spouse ..."—Jen Pilcher, Navy spouse and founder of MilSpousefest "... The perfect gift for every military spouse in every walk of life. Truly a MUST READ."—Noralee Jones, writer and creator at Mrs. Navy Mama A beautiful collection of handwritten letters that offer strength, encouragement, and comfort to women living with breast cancer. Brimming with warm messages and words of wisdom for when it's needed most: Written by compassionate strangers—many of whom have gone through their own health battles—these heartfelt letters contain empathy, inspiration, and humor to help you overcome difficult moments. They were gathered by Girls Love Mail, an organization that provides support to people diagnosed with breast cancer. • Contains many beautiful illustrations to match the handwritten notes by other women who have had their own health struggles • A book that brings light to dark moments and makes readers feel less alone during stressful and hard times • Gina L. Mulligan is a writer and the founder of Girls Love Mail. She founded the organization after her own diagnosis in 2011 and the charity has sent out over 100,000 handwritten letters of encouragement to women with breast cancer across the country A handwritten letter is a powerful healing tool that is a cherished gift for a woman going through a difficult time. Dear Friend makes a heartwarming and motivational gift for a loved one recently diagnosed with breast cancer to remind them that they aren't alone, and that they are strong enough to keep fighting. Winner of the 24th Annual Writer's Digest Award The opening's statement of 'almost everything we do is affected by or perception of God' is tremendous, getting the reader to self-assess right away, intrigued by the concept of PERCEPTION of God. Excellent book. Intriguing, and at this point the reader knows without doubt that we are in for an illuminating read. The author's writing voice is stellar: engaging, educating without lecturing, posing fascinating questions in a tone that reminds the reader of having a chat with a fascinating friend from whom we can learn. Writer's Digest Judge IF GOD WERE TO WRITE YOU A PERSONAL LETTER... would it be full of harshness, pointing out all your faults and wrong-doings? The Letters will reveal a God who knows your name and He offers you Hope, Encouragement and Inspiration; a God who knows the desire of your heart, your deepest fear, what shames you. You will find a God who not only loves you, but is very, very fond of you. The members of the Armed Forces make great sacrifices as they help protect our nation. They are often far from their loved ones, and feelings of discouragement and loneliness are often a part of their daily lives. This book is a touching compilation of patriotic, encouraging letters written by citizens of all ages to America's service members to boost their spirits and to give recognition for their accomplishments. As you read these letters, you will also feel gratitude for the efforts of each Soldier. This book is a great gift for anyone who is in the military or who has a family member serving there. Proceeds from the book will go toward the non-profit, military-supporting organizations Operation Angel and Project Portrait. For more information, go to www.operationangel.homestead.com or www.projectportrait.homestead.com. In Letters of Encouragement, Dr. Warner Doles has provided not merely an explanation of selected scriptures, but a guide to the believer's everyday life of faith. He has interspersed his writing with scriptural quotes, words from the original languages, and his own down to earth comments in his own earthy prose. He writes as a scholar who can discern and analyze God's message of the Bible, and as a gentle shepherd who explains his analysis to the lay Christian in an understandable way. I recommend letters as a book that the serious believer will want to read more than once. Jere Geurin Morehead City, NC In my opinion it is a great light expositional commentary. The Greek explanations have been used in such a way that any one can understand the text and feel the power of the original language. I expected just a short encouraging book and got both the encouragement of the scripture and Dr. Doles commentary on the text. I recommend it to all pastors, teachers and laypersons. Rev. Robert Wise Creekside Community Church Bessemer City, NC This beautiful collection of handwritten letters offers strength, encouragement, and comfort to women living with breast cancer. Written by compassionate strangers—many of whom have gone through their own health battles—these heartfelt letters were gathered by Girls Love Mail, an organization that provides support to people diagnosed with breast cancer. Brimming with warm messages of empathy, inspiration, and humor, Dear Friend delivers words of wisdom when they're needed the most. Letters to S.A.M. is a compilation of love notes, scripture, and prayers that I found myself reading and speaking for encouragement. Being a Stay-At-Home Mom has many advantages, but it can also be overwhelming. The days get longer and the money gets shorter, but I have found that His love for us remains the same. Not only does His love never run out, but neither do His provisions for our family. Allow his joy to be your strength. Stay encouraged. Stay before Him in prayer. Stay amazing. "A compelling, important addition to Hill Harper's bestselling series, inspired by the numerous young inmates who write to him seeking guidance After the publication of the bestselling Letters to a Young Brother, accomplished actor and speaker Hill Harper began to receive an increasing number of moving letters from inmates who yearned for a connection with a successful role model. With disturbing statistics on African-American incarceration on his mind (one in six black men were incarcerated as of 2001, and one in three can now expect to go to prison some time in their lifetimes), Harper set out to address the specific needs of inmates. A powerful message from the heart, Letters to an Incarcerated Brother provides advice and inspiration in the face of despair along with encouraging words for restoring a sense of self-worth. As the founder of Manifest Your Destiny, a nonprofit outreach program for at-risk teens, Harper has seen firsthand the transformative effect of mentorship and the power of a positive role model. This latest addition to Hill Harper's Letters series delivers visionary, compassionate responses to the real-life circumstances of inmates. As with the other Letters books, Harper includes moving contributions from top educators, activists, thought leaders, and entertainers. Uplifting and insightful, Letters to an Incarcerated Brother provides the hope and inspiration inmates and their families need"-- We Support You Letters of Encouragement for Our Troops Serving in Iraq and Afghanistan Imagine being separated from your friends and family, your own spouse and children, for months and even years? As Cardinal George aptly states, "This book is an invitation to trust, made by an archbishop who loves his priests." In recent years, Archbishop Peter Sartain has written to the priests of the Diocese of Joliet (where he served from 2006-10) and the priests of the Archdiocese of Seattle (where he currently ministers). These intimate, thoughtful letters of encouragement and support are collected here. From a place of commitment and care, Archbishop Sartain addresses a variety of spiritual, theological, pastoral, and personal situations that challenge priests. His personal experience and spiritual insights come together in a moving pastoral way, offering the reader a deep sense of God's care for the world and those who shepherd his people. Archbishop Sartain's confidence that God is in charge and ministry is based on surrendering control to God's truth, love, and simple presence permeates this book. Priests will find it uplifting, as will others who serve in ministry, and the people who care about them. This book is a journey of finding the meaning of love and healing. It is originally a pile of handwritten letters that typed into a book. It is telling the story of a soul who wandered around to find love and the way of healing by listening to the Universe. May one of these hundred letters may lead to a meeting of two hearts in need. May one of these letters lead you to somewhere in love, she hopes. Exiled on the island of Patmos, the apostle John found himself one day in the presence of the Son of God. As he fell down to worship, the apostle was commanded to write what he saw and heard, and to record and send messages to seven churches, encouraging them and challenging them in the way of the Lord. That was then; this is now. What might the Spirit say to our churches today? What might the Spirit be saying to you? Chris Lewis and the Epiphaneia Network put that question to their friends. This book includes some of the responses they got. With contributions from such significant voices as Andy Crouch Ron Sider Tim Challies Peter Rollins Sarah Lance Makoto Fujimura and others, Letters to a Future Church paints a portrait of the world as we have it and the mission we have in it. You may find your calling in this book; you may even find your own voice. In 52 personal, vulnerable letters, writer Andi Cumbo-Floyd shares her personal experiences of the writing journey, offers her perspective on the writing life, and shares encouragement to help writers through the hard and the joyous days of being a writer. The letters cover everything from what it feels like to sign a book contract to the times writing draws out emotion we didn't realize to the need for space in our daily lives. The letters are intimate and honest, each written with love for the writers Cumbo-Floyd holds dear. Buy Love Letters to Writers and find a companion and champion for the writing journey. Finally, a journal you can fill with funny, sweet and sincere letters to your son. Offer your wisdom, advice, encouragement and your perspective on life all written in your own words, handwriting and sense of humor. Start a new tradition that will be passed on for generations.
